THE WORLD'S NEGRO ISSUE.

The Kansas City Journal has reached the conclusion that negroes are the same everywhere. Wherever the negro lives the race problem presents identical aspects and they are of a kind to make it a matter of satisfaction here that the planters soon parted company with their plan to fill the island labor market with African material.

The large immigration of Europeans to Africa during recent years, says the Journal, "has occasioned a situation which shows that the depravities of the civilized negroes are merely the manifestation of the innate vicious weaknesses of their aboriginal brethren in the jungles. An exchange from South Africa states that a regular epidemic of assaults by natives upon white women is in progress. This offense has been punished there by whipping, and by imprisonment from six months to two years. But this punishment has not acted with deterrent effect, so the white citizens have been holding indignation meetings for the purpose of protesting to the government against the mildness and inefficiency of the penalty, and to devise ways and means for the purpose of putting a stop to the crime which threatens to plunge the country into a state of disorder."

"It begins to look, however, if the outrages continue and the punishment is not more certain and severe, as if the people will take justice into their own hands. In fear of this deplorable outcome, the orderly citizens of South Africa have demanded an amendment to the criminal code such as will effectively teach the blacks the danger of allowing rein to their passions. The benevolent plan, which condones offenses and attempts reformation by education and moral instruction, is regarded as a failure, and lynchings or speedy legal executions is the only policy now advocated in South Africa."

The protection of white women against negroes, even to the extent of prohibiting social intercourse, is universal, in spite of some mistaken beliefs to the contrary. A newspaper correspondent of credit and discernment who has traveled throughout the Antilles, reports that "in the French Indies and at Martinique, even among the mixed races, there is an unconscious selection tending upwards towards the superior race." In the British West Indies, this traveler asserts also, that no dowry will tempt a white girl to marry a mulatto, or an octroon, or any man with the least suspected taint of negro blood in his veins. At Bermuda, north of the archipelago, the same feeling was observed.

"While men of each race may associate in military, political and business life, yet in society wherever it is possible a demarcation is severely drawn, not only in the United States, but in every other place in the world where the deteriorating effect of the negro blood is appreciated."

SUPERVISORS AND POLICE.

One of the pressing reasons why we should have a good Board of Supervisors, is to secure a useful police force—something Hawaii is far from having at the present time.

Section 50 of Chapter XII of the County Act provides as follows:

The Sheriff may, with the approval of the Board, appoint in each District as many policemen as shall be necessary. The powers and duties of such policemen shall be as now provided by law for policemen; and their compensation shall be fixed by the Board of Supervisors.

This puts the chief responsibility for the police in the hands of the Supervisors. Only with their approval may policemen be enrolled and they need not accept any in whom they or the public have no confidence. Furthermore they hold the purse. They can fix the wage-rate and put it high enough, if they please, to get good men for the force. And Heaven knows that good men—men of ordinary courage, intelligence and honesty—are badly needed there.

Hawaii may have struck a good lead in the matter of an international cup-race with Japan. If anything could bring a crowd down here it would be just that. There is no reason why all the international cup-racing should be done at New York, with England and America as the sole competitors. Hawaii could offer a cup and seek competitors from Japan, Australia and New Zealand. Why not?

White Is Running.

It is some weeks since Clarence M. White announced himself as a candidate for County Auditor. He is still in the race notwithstanding the blank to that office left in most of the premature slates published. Mr. White claims recognition from his record as an expert accountant and his lifelong support of the Republican party.

Lemuel C. Ables is also reported to be available for Auditor, although not actively putting himself forward.

M. P. ROBINSON
FOR SUPERVISOR

M. P. Robinson is the latest man mentioned prominently for a supervisorship. W. H. Hoogs and F. W. Macfarlane are also said to be nominees. Mr. Robinson, when seen yesterday afternoon, stated that he was not looking for office, but if the position was urged upon him he would not refuse it.

S. E. Damon is said to have promised to take the treasurer'ship. There is no opposition to A. M. Brown for sheriff or J. W. Pratt for assessor. The surveyorship and auditorship are still left without applicants. A. L. C. Atkinson is said to be in line for county attorney nomination if he wants it. The Home Rule primaries, announced by various members for various dates, have been announced as already having taken place on August 24. Kaulaokalani, who left for Maui last evening to hold the Maui convention, is responsible for the statement. He further announces the Hawaii convention for September 10, Kauai for the 17th and Oahu for September 20.

Apparently the Home Rule primaries were an example of pocket politics, the delegates being decided upon by the inner ring. Undoubtedly many of the Home Rulers and their friends had no knowledge of the primaries having taken place until they were a thing of the past. The regular routine of names selected from those most active in the party is said to have been duplicated with hardly an exception.

BURIAL ASSOCIATION
CHANGES BY-LAWS

At a meeting of the Board of Control of the Honolulu branch of the Harrison Mutual Burial Association held August 27, 1903, Article 13 of the by-laws was changed to correspond with Article 7 and reads as follows:

ARTICLE 13.

It is agreed that such undertaker's services shall be rendered by the Association's undertaker, and he is hereby designated the Official Undertaker of the Association, and shall render undertaker's service in all cases, unless some other undertaker is designated by the member or his representatives.

In such case the member or his representative shall notify the Association's undertaker of the undertaker preferred so that the Association's undertaker can arrange with such preferred undertaker to conduct the funeral of said member, and if said member or his representative fail to notify the Association's undertaker as hereinbefore provided said member shall not be entitled to the benefits of the Association, and it is agreed that the undertaker performing the services for the Association shall pay to the Secretary and Treasurer twenty-five per cent (25 per cent) of the benefit received, which shall be considered as the compensation of said Secretary and Treasurer for his services on behalf of the Association.

MACKAY SAYS
HE IS IN DEBT

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Clarence H. Mackay, who inherited a fortune of many millions from his father, swore off his personal property tax assessment at Roslyn, L. I., yesterday, making affidavit that his debts exceeded the value of his personal property subject to taxation. He was handed a blank affidavit and in it he included a statement regarding his debts. This he signed and swore to.

"I would like to give something to the town," said Mackay, "and I am, therefore, willing to pay taxes on $20,000."

"I told him," said Assessor J. E. Frith, who was present, "that the town could pay its debts, but that as a public official I could not well refuse to accept his offer, and so it was arranged."

Mackay left the office as soon as he had arranged for the payment on $20,000. He entered his automobile and was taken to his home.

WASHINGTON IS WELL INFORMED

In his letter of information on Territorial finances sent by Governor Dole to Washington on August 18, he points out that there was no loan for the past biennial period and calls attention to the large diversion of local revenues to Washington in the inauguration of the Territory. Governor Dole also wrote:

"You will note that a large part of the loan appropriations are on account of public improvements for the benefit of the county government which will come into operation next January. It was deemed best by the legislature that such appropriations should be made by the Territory in order that there should be no obstacles of a financial nature in the way of the successful installation of the administration of county affairs, and also, inasmuch as a large proportion of these appropriations such as those for water works, new roads, bridges, sewers, jails, court houses, etc., were necessary in the public interests and would have been made as a matter of course had no county government been in contemplation."

Secretary Carter took away a letter of instructions from Governor Dole, in which he says that he has cabled to Washington for a leave of absence for the Secretary and that if the President's approval of bonds was not given at once it would be necessary for Mr. Carter to communicate with the President before proceeding to New York. Secretary Carter is instructed to confer with the Secretary of the Interior with regard to settling up the matter of the Hawaiian public debt.

Other matters covered in the instructions have been amply detailed within the past fortnight in the Advertiser's columns.

SHE PLAYED HERE
TEN YEARS AGO

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Mrs. Irving L. Blinn, whose father-in-law, L. W. Blinn, is a millionaire lumber dealer in Los Angeles, recently arrived in New York, and is seeking a divorce.

She said today: "I am tired of being the wife of a rich man's son, who will not work to support me. Rather than live on what his father gives him, I have asked my attorneys to bring an action of separation, so that I can be free, and work for myself and my child."

Irving Blinn had just graduated from college when a theatrical stock company began its season in Los Angeles. The ingenu of the organization was Genevieve Nannery, and he fell in love with her at first sight. They were married, but they did not live happily and separated. Mrs. Blinn's father was W. E. Sheridan, a theatrical manager.

The Site of Calvary.

At the request of many of his parishioners, the Rev. William Morris Kincaid will upon Sunday morning at the Central Union church, relate his experiences in finding the true site of the cross during his recent travels in the Holy Land.

Mr. Kincaid does not think that the site popularly pointed out is the true one and believes in the theory evolved by Chinese Gordon on his visit to Jerusalem. There are many interesting anecdotes connected with his trip that will be included in Mr. Kincaid's address.

A Wonderful Discovery

This is the age of research and experiment, when all nature, so to speak, is ransacked by the scientific for the comfort and happiness of man. Science has indeed made great strides during the past century, and among the by no means least important—discoveries in medicine comes that of Therapion. This preparation is unquestionably one of the most genuine and reliable Patent Medicines ever introduced, and has, we understand, been used in the Continental Hospitals by Ricord, Rostan, Robert Velpeau, Maisonneuve, the well-known Chas. Saignes, and indeed by all those who are regarded as authorities in such matters, including the celebrated Lallemand, and Boz, by whom it was some time since uniformly adopted, and that it is worthy the attention of those who require such a remedy we think there is no doubt. From the time of Aristotle downwards, a potent agent in the removal of these diseases has been the object of search of some hopeful, generous minds; and far beyond the mere power—if such could ever have been discovered—of transmuting the base metal into gold is surely the discovery of a remedy so potent as effectually, speedily and safely to expel from the system the poisons of acquired or inherited disease in all their protean forms as to leave no taint or trace behind. Such is The New French Remedy Therapion, which may certainly rank with, if not take precedence of, many of the discoveries of our day, about which no little ostentation and noise have been made, and the extensive and ever increasing demand that has been evoked for this medicine wherever introduced appears to prove that it is destined to cast into oblivion all those questionable remedies that were formerly the sole reliance of medical men. Therapion may be obtained in England, direct from the proprietor, and of the principal Chemists and Merchants throughout the Colonies, India, China, Japan, &c.—Diamond Fields Advertiser, Kimberley.

Aching Joints

In the fingers, toes, arms, and other parts of the body, are joints that are inflamed and swollen by rheumatism—that acid condition of the blood which affects the muscles also.

Sufferers dread to move, especially after sitting or lying long, and their condition is commonly worse in wet weather.

"It has been a long time since we have been without Hood's Sarsaparilla. My father thinks he could not be without it. He has been troubled with rheumatism since he was a boy, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine he can take that will enable him to take his place in the field." Miss Ada Dorr, Sidney, Iowa.
